MASSIVE ART HAPPENING “YARD SALE TIME MACHINE” INVADES THE HEIGHTS

More than 20 of Houston’s leading contemporary artists combine efforts in an art sale/ happening over an entire block in the historic Heights.

Part yard sale, part art installation, part “happening,” the aptly named Yard Sale Time Machine promises to be a unique, first-time event on the Houston arts calendar. On October 23rd, more than 20 of Houston’s leading contemporary artists will set up a network of yard sales across several lots at the intersection of 16th Street and Studewood -- presenting cutting edge art within a neighborhood setting. The art presented will feature almost every media imaginable -- sculpture, painting, photography, mixed media, print works, graffiti, clothing, interactive works, balloon art, performances, stunts, and more. Some artists will scour their garages and storage buildings for artworks never shown before. Many will create new work specifically for the event. Hundreds of works will be exhibited, and many will be offered for sale. It’s art from across time... past, present, and future.

Yard Sale Time Machine will take place Saturday, October 23rd between 9AM and 5PM at 1141 E. 16th Street at Studewood.

Participating artists include Ian Anderson, The Art Guys, Wendy Brown, Scott Burns, Crawdad, Bill Davenport, Roberto del Rio, Kelley Devine, Carter Ernst, Molly Gochman, GOT TACO?, David Graeve, Dana Harper, Hana Hillerova, Paul Horn, I love you baby, Solomon Kane, Paul Kittelson, Marcus Mann, Matt Messinger, Mark Nelson, Lindsay Peyton, Jim Pirtle, Alfredo Scaroina, Chip Schneider, Amy Wright, and others to be announced.
